The word of the president

For a long time, the cradle of seaside fishing in France, the Nord Pas-de-Calais region, now called "Hauts de France", has not organized a world championship. This opportunity seized by « Les pêcheurs de la Côte d'Opale » is in continuity of a constant activity of this club structured and dynamic.

The U16 and U21 world championships, a symbol of youthful strength, perfectly embody the spirit and motivation of the organizing team. Around their president Michael Sauvage, she will be able to put in place the necessary to make this event a success.

I wish this world youth of the angling shore an excellent competition, which disputed in a loyal and sporting spirit will leave to them I am sure, an unforgettable memory.

P.MORGA

The word of the person in charge of the association
« Les Pêcheurs de la Côte d'Opale »

The "Pêcheurs de la Côte d'Opale" club is honored to be entrusted with the organization of the 26th and 17th U16 and U21 World Championships of shore angling which will take place from July 15 to 22 on the « Côte d'Opale ».

Everything is done to make you discover our region and these attractions between the agglomerations of Boulonnais and Calais.

You will discover these sites with different profiles, but recognized as zones fish by our local fishermen.

Passages from one fishing area to another will allow you to discover the extent of the landscapes of our region and its interminable endless sandy beaches.

In any case, everything is planned so that this competition combines sporting, human and convivial encounters around our passion "fishing".

I would like to thank the Nord / Pas-de-Calais regional council, the Pas-de-Calais general council, the « Communauté d'agglomération du Boulonnais » and the municipality of Wimille for their financial support, but also the mayors of Saint Etienne-au -Mont, Equihen-Plage, Neufchatel-Hardelot, Tardinghem and Ambleteuse, for all the facilities given to the organization of this championship.

I wish you a great stay in our region and that the sports results are up to your expectations.

Michaël SAUVAGE
Président de l'association
« Les Pêcheurs de la Côte d'Opale »

La Côte d'Opale

From Berck-sur-Mer to Calais, in the department of Pas-de-Calais, the Côte d'Opale offers kilometers of sandy beaches, dunes planted with oyats, cliffs and wild coasts dotted with seaside resorts like Le Touquet-Paris-Plage, Wimereux, Wissant, Berck-sur-Mer and Hardelot-Plage.

Some resorts like Wimereux or Le Touquet-Paris-Plage reveal to the walker magnificent villas, particularly of Anglo-Norman style. The Côte d'Opale is ideal for relaxation and change of scenery, and is also used for recreational activities such as golf, sand yachting, cycling or hiking. The green meadows and fragrant pine forests bordering the coastline are ideal for relaxing walks. It is on the beaches of the Opal Coast, adorned with pretty colored cabins, that one can marvel at the spectacles animated by kites or sailing chariots spinning at full speed.

The Côte d'Opale brings together varied landscapes of beaches, dunes, marshes, estuaries, cliffs and interior environments.

The Côte d'Opale is marked by the presence of two large cliffs between Calais and Boulogne: Cap Blanc-Nez, 132 meters high and Cap Gris-Nez, reaching 50 meters.

Cap Blanc-Nez and the beach of Escalles

Cap Gris-Nez

The latter is the closest French coastal point to England.

The relief gives way to beaches of fine sand, successively interrupted by the nature reserve of the Bay of Canche and the Bay of Authie.

The Opal Coast is under a marked oceanic climate. The thermal amplitudes are low, winters are mild and summers cool. Days of frost and snow are few. The territory is heavily exposed to winds throughout the year, making the weather very variable. Between the different coastal cities, however, there are disparities due to the orientation of the sea and therefore the prevailing winds (west between Berck and Deux Caps, north between the two Capes and the Belgian border).

The marine environment of this part of France is characterized by a very turbid sea with strong current, with important tides and intertidal zones.

Besides its beaches and natural sites, the Opal Coast is home to many attractive tourist sites. The national center of the sea, Nausicaá, located in Boulogne-sur-Mer, is the most visited site in the region. There are also many historical monuments: the Column of the Grande Armée, the citadels (in Calais, Boulogne and Montreuil), forts, castles, belfries (in Boulogne, Calais and Dunkirk), churches, lighthouses etc. .

A variation on the quantities supplied during the competition is possible according to the arrivals.

The bait portions ordered for the free training of the teams will be similar to the quantities identified above.

All orders will be made to the organization through the bulletin attached to this file.

Fishing Tackle

Recommended materials:

1 cane in fishing action

Cane from 4,20 to 4,50m - Power 80 to 250 gr

Threaded reels 20 to 35/100 °

Montages of 1 to 3 stacks, lengths 40cm to 2m, decorated with pearls or sequins all colors

Hooks from 8 to 2

Transport trolley, spades from 1 to 1.50m and tripod (indispensable because some beaches are covered with pebbles)

Recommended boots or thigh boots

Catches - Species

The most frequent catches on these beaches are: bass, grey mullet, european squid, weever, common dab, pilchard, mackerel, eel, garfish, pouting, whiting (see appendix 1).

Fishing Regulations (Catch and Release)

The FIPS-Mer regulations in force will be the one implemented on this competition.

You will find below the Internet link to download the latest regulations :

<http://www.fips-m.org/fr/statuts-reglements-fr>

The organizing association has committed itself to regional, departmental and local authorities to put in place an environmental and sustainable development approach for this event.

It consists of:

- To the respect of the fishing sites provided "they will be clean at our arrival and will have to remain so"
- To a catch and release fishery or the release of catch of any size

All means are provided for the respect of these points.

Anthem and Flag

The participating selections are required to provide the organizer with the flag of their country and a CD with their national anthem as soon as they arrive or at the latest at the host meeting scheduled on the official hosting site.

Medical certificate

Each competitor must have in his possession a medical certificate dated less than 6 months at the beginning of the competition attesting his fitness to practice sport fishing.

The organization may at any time claim this certificate.

The certificate must be in one of the official languages of the FIPS.

The participating selections will be responsible for the information of the medical certificates provided to the organizer.

Classification

The ranking system set up for this competition consists of measuring catches with point conversion according to the species. The conversion table will be provided before the start of the competition.

The legal size is set at 15cm for all species.

Any hold less than 15cm will be counted 1 point.

Fishing sleeves

The fishing sleeves will mostly take place on rising tide. Given the speed of water rise as well as crossings of repetitive troughs and tarps, it is advisable for competitors to lighten as much as possible the equipment carried to the competition sites.

In order to ensure the safety of everyone, in addition to the FIPS-mer regulation, it is imperative to specify to the competitors:

- That all throws will be "feet dry" or out of the water
- That it will be forbidden to cross the tarpaulins or bays, whatever their depth, throughout the duration of the fishing sleeves

Area managers

Area managers will be designated by the organizer (1 per fishing site). They will be the relay of the organization with the FIPS officials, the jury and the commissioners. Their names and contact details will be provided at the Captains' Meeting for any disputes on site.

Rescue

First-aid teams, intended solely for the competition, will circulate on the competition sites. They will be reachable by all (FIPS officials, commissaires and zone officials) during the course of the heats.

The coordinates of each team will be communicated during the captains' meeting.
