The city of Hammamet

Hammamet (in Arabic: الحمّامات) is a Tunisian city located in the northeast, on the southeast coast of Cap Bon, about sixty kilometers south of Tunis Capital.

It is one of Tunisia's main seaside resorts.

Renowned since the second half of the 20th century, the city offers long beaches along the gulf bearing its name.

The core of Hammamet is made up of its medina. To the west is the kasbah and, to the north, the Place des Martyrs where there is a monument resembling the Eiffel Tower and which recalls the martyrs of the War of Independence.

The tourist area is divided from the center into two sections. The smallest and oldest (Hammamet Nord) extends towards Nabeul and the largest and most recent (Yasmine Hammamet), located a few kilometers to the west, extends towards Bouficha. Three kilometers from the center is a cultural center that hosts the Hammamet International Festival every summer.

Several golf courses are near the town.

GENERAL INFORMATIONS

A. DOPING CONTROL

All entrants/competitors participating in the Championships implicitly agree to ALL WADA Sporting Anti-Doping Rules.

KEY RECOMMENDATIONS IN THE FIGHT AGAINST DOPING

Athletes taking medication are required to check whether they are on WADA's List of Prohibited Substances and Methods.

Special care should be taken when taking antihypertensives, especially diuretics, which are available both as individual preparations and in combination with other normally permitted drugs. Diuretics are still prohibited.

For these reasons, each athlete or national federation must check the list of prohibited substances and, if necessary, apply for a Therapeutic Use Exemption (TUE). The Therapeutic Use Exemption must be granted before taking a prohibited substance.

Therapeutic use exemption must be submitted 30 days prior to participation in championships. Application forms should be completed carefully and with your doctor's permission. A Physician's certificate or prescription does not by itself authorize the Athlete to use the Prohibited Substance or Prohibited Method.

The application must be completed in French or English and sent directly to the office of the CIPS President.

Every athlete has the right to practice clean sport.
